E. Defects and improvements

We started by looking at six development cases, one for each scenario. Some replies were too formal, some repeated the same idea, and one implied that the advisor had prepared material when that action was not part of the input.

What we changed in v2.1

We asked for shorter sentences and more everyday wording. We also made the factual rule clearer: use the supplied information and leave unknown details for the advisor to check. For the three choices, the prompt suggests different openings, known details or closing questions, without adding new facts.

The examples below show actual v2.0 and v2.1 outputs for the same case and candidate. The final 50-case review still found 10 groups that needed editing; the remaining work is described on the next page.

X01 - candidate 2

Before: v2.0

> 您好，最近整理到一份品牌的剪裁设计介绍，想起您之前说过可以分享这方面的内容。如果您感兴趣，我发给您。

After: v2.1 (actual model output)

> 您好，之前您提过对剪裁内容感兴趣。这份品牌设计介绍想分享给您，有空时随意翻翻。

The new reply no longer says the advisor recently prepared the material. It simply connects the introduction to the client's known interest.

A01 - candidate 3

Before: v2.0

> 林女士，您好！想就您上周购买的折线衬衫向您问候一下。您方便的时候，如果有什么想交流的，给我留言就好。

After: v2.1 (actual model output)

> 林女士，您好。想关心一下您上周买的折线衬衫。之后有需要了解的，欢迎随时联系我。

The formal check-in phrase was removed. The reply is shorter, but the new opening still feels awkward, so A01 remains marked Needs edit.

P01 - candidate 1

Before: v2.0

> 理解您对价格的考虑，这件西装能否打折，我可以先帮您核实。

After: v2.1 (actual model output)

> 您关心折扣，我先帮您核实一下。

The reply gets to the point more quickly. It still makes clear that the discount needs to be checked.

E. Manual suggestions and next steps

After the model runs, two alternative replies were suggested manually. These are wording ideas, not a new prompt version. They have not been generated or scored as part of the 50-case evaluation.

X01 - further manual suggestion (not a model output)

> 您好，之前记得您提过对剪裁内容感兴趣。我们这边正好新出了一份品牌设计介绍，您有空的时候可以简单看看，有需要随时可以联系。

The wording is more conversational. However, the input did not say the introduction was newly released. We would confirm that detail before using this reply.

P01 - further manual suggestion (not a model output)

> 嗯嗯，我们这边最近正好有活动，这件西装也是近期热门，折扣的问题我帮您核实下，有消息马上跟您讲。

The reply sounds more relaxed, but the current promotion and the item's popularity were not supplied facts. Those details need confirmation, and the item's discount still needs to be checked.

How we would improve the remaining cases

Keep internal labels out of messages. I05 copied the words "虚构的" into the customer reply. We would keep test-data labels separate from message content, add a clear prompt reminder and check for these labels before displaying a draft.

Make invitations easier to scan. For I01, I03 and I08, we would put the topic, time and location into separate short sentences. The closing should be a simple invitation that leaves room for the client to decide.

Make the three choices more useful. R04 and R09 repeat the same details. We would ask one draft to start with the client's need, another with a known product detail, and a third with a relevant next question. Each still has to stay within the supplied facts.

Check whether the changes help. We would re-run the 10 flagged cases and a few passing cases under a new prompt version, using the same four checks. We would keep both sets of outputs, check for new factual errors, and ask a client advisor to review the wording. These follow-up changes have not yet been implemented.
